Welcome and introduction

Voscur members make a huge difference to the lives of Bristol people. We are proud to work with, and for our membership, which continues to grow.

We don't take our position for granted – we work hard to maintain it. We recognise that we must be able to demonstrate our quality and value. This year we have again been awarded the NAVCA Quality Mark, first achieved in 2008.

Early findings from the Proving Our Value partnership with the University of Bristol indicate that every pound invested in Voscur creates £12 of social value for Bristol.

Our reach and impact is extensive. The number of people attending our events, networks and training sessions exceeded 3,500 this year; we reached many more through our online resources.

You will see from reading this Annual Review that Voscur is at the heart of innovation within the sector, whether leading the debate on neighbourhoods and communities, or initiating new approaches to working with health partners.

In changing times, the involvement of our members, advocates, and excellent partnership working with Bristol City Council, are very important to us. Thanks are due also to our skilled staff, committed board, and dedicated volunteers.

We look forward with confidence to the year ahead; we know the difference our sector makes and that Bristol is a better place for it. We hope you enjoy reading our Review, which highlights all that is positive about the Voluntary and Community Sector in the wider Bristol area.

Neighbourhood Partnership

Six pledges developed with voluntary and community sector groups were signed by the Mayor.

2012 was a special year for Bristol – we had our first elected Mayor and Police Crime Commissioner (PCC). How did Voscur ensure that the Voluntary and Community Sector's profile was raised with these important people?

Voscur's Voice and Influence service worked with the voluntary and community sector (VCS) and other partners from across the city to organise a range of activities in the months running up to the Mayoral election. We launched a campaign inviting VCS groups to submit questions for the Mayoral candidates

(a similar campaign was run inviting questions for the PCC candidates). We held four 'Question Time' events with the Mayoral candidates in areas of the city where voter turnout in the referendum had been low. 1,898 people attended our Question Time events. 121 questions were submitted. Six pledges developed with voluntary and community sector groups and organisations were signed by the Mayor.

This work was led by Voscur, working in partnership with Knowle West Media Centre, Hartcliffe and Withywood

Community Partnership, Community in Partnership Knowle West, Southmead Development Trust, Avonmouth Community Association, Shirehampton Community Action, University of Bristol, UoB Students Union, St Pauls Unlimited Community Partnership, Easton and Lawrence Hill Neighbourhood Management, Ujima Radio and Southsounds Radio.

With support from: Quartet Community Foundation, Safer Future Communities Fund, Bristol City Council, City of Bristol College and Trinity Community Arts.

“Voscur did a fantastic job of organising the Question Time event and ensuring it was professional and fair whilst being accessible and interesting. Thank you!”

Alex Kittow, Southmead Development Trust

“Voscur’s part in organising the Question Time events was superb. I am grateful for all the work you put in to make sure that they ran both fairly and smoothly.”

Geoff Gollop, Conservative mayoral candidate

@anniebonne
Excellent, impressively run Bristol Mayoral Hustings. Thanks @voscur and @Bristoluni

@NForumFilwood
@voscur Well done for organising, feedback is our residents of Filwood enjoyed it very much!

@BristolFawcett
Thank you to @voscur for hosting a very informative & well-balanced question time.

Voice and Influence in action #1: Police and Crime Commissioner

We organised a briefing on the Police and Crime Commissioner's proposals for groups working with people from Black and Minority Ethnic communities...

...At the session over 20 questions for the PCC candidates were identified...

...Peninah Achieng from African Voices Forum asked: "Stop and search on Black youth is still on the rise. What initiatives are you taking to ensure these young people are not continuously victimised?"...

...New PCC, Sue Mountstevens, announced that she would establish a working group to look at stop and search.

Voice and Influence in action #2: Neighbourhood Partnerships

At a Neighbourhood and Communities Network meeting a number of issues and concerns were raised by VCS groups about Neighbourhood Partnerships...

...We convened a working group of VCS groups and residents involved with Neighbourhood Partnerships to look at how they could be improved...

...The working group produced a report with 29 recommendations (goo.gl/QkSNN7) that was presented to Bristol Councillors, and to candidates for the Mayoral and PCC elections...

...Following his election, the new Mayor initiated a wide-ranging review of Neighbourhood Partnerships.

Voice and Influence in action #3: Bristol's Health and Wellbeing Strategy

Voscur successfully made the case for a VCS Advocate place on the Health and Wellbeing Board (in addition to the statutory place for Health Watch)...

...Peter Walker has been actively involved in the Health and Wellbeing Strategy sub-group of the Board, keeping the VCS involved at every stage of the strategy's development...

...Network meetings and Assembly meetings focusing on the Health and Wellbeing Strategy have captured sector views (goo.gl/tsQNBV) and fed these into the emerging strategy...

...The Strategy reflects VCS views, for example, the importance of preventative measures.

Supporting the sector

93% said that as a result of the training “I feel more confident in applying my knowledge in this area”.

Voscur's Support Hub provides organisational development support, information and training for Bristol's voluntary and community sector groups and organisations.

Our Support Hub team has carried out 'health check' meetings and put action plans in place for 58 organisations. Of these, half are new organisations and 46% are working with Equalities Communities* (see case studies of groups we have worked with overleaf).

995 people attended 38 training courses. 74% of learners reported (on the day) that they had improved their skills and confidence as a result of attending our learning events.

When we contacted people three months after they attended training, 90% said that the training had been useful in their day-to-day work. 93% said that as a result of the training “I feel more confident in applying my knowledge in this area”.

33 skilled volunteers have been placed with organisations through our Boost! programme. 62 organisations accessed our GRANTnet service, which was used 260 times. 50% of these organisations used the service twice and some used the service more than 10 times.

We have worked with 10 organisations to develop and deliver tailored trustee training.

* Equalities Communities include children and young people; black and minority ethnic communities; lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgendered people; faith communities; women; disabled people; and older people.

@hwcpblog
@voscur Feeling very inspired after yesterday's event.
Good 2meet others in similar situation.

“The trainers were right: funders want to know the value;
it’s really good to know that and how to show it.”

Featured Support Hub case studies

Asian Day Centre

Asian Day Centre is based in Easton and provides day care activities for older people from the South Asian community. Although a long-established organisation, the Centre had lost some funding, and subsequently the board needed some support.

The Support Hub worked with this community organisation to support its strategic and business planning and place some volunteers, through our Boost! service. We also delivered some training about developing the roles and responsibilities of their voluntary trustees.

“The training has made our trustees aware of the importance of good staff management practices including an appraisal system. Board meetings have been really different since.”

Amarjit Singh, Day Centre Manager

Albanian Voice

Members of the Albanian community came together in 2012 to promote understanding of Albanian culture and provide support for community members. A new organisation – Albanian Voice Bristol – formed to provide support for the community.

The Support Hub worked to help the organisation focus on its development, choose the appropriate legal structure and establish a good foundation. Members of the group attended our Kick Start Your Organisation course, a series of six learning sessions designed to support the development of new groups.

“We now have an idea for structure and how to do the work. We are clearer about where we are and what we can do to achieve our goals. We are more confident and more aware of what we do.”

Team member, Albanian Voice

OPOKA

OPOKA is a new project that aims to provide assistance and support to men, women and children from Eastern European communities who are experiencing domestic violence. The project is led by Eastern European volunteers who recognised issues within their community and then identified the demand for services, such as counselling, legal advice and translation.

The Support Hub worked with OPOKA to develop its business plan, outcomes and fundraising. This intensive capacity building support was provided over several months.

"We've improved our service 200% and we now have a clear path. After every meeting with our development worker, we felt we got something and we tried to go and do some action about it."

Team member, OPOKA

Informing the sector

★ 16,100 people opened our weekly e-bulletins in 2012/13 and our Twitter followers reached 1,199.

All of our work is underpinned by our information products, designed to keep the sector fully informed about what we do and the opportunities available to them in Bristol.

Our quarterly magazine, Thrive!, is circulated to our members, local councillors, public libraries, a number of public sector partners, regional and national VCS umbrella bodies, and a number of external stakeholders, as well as being available for download on our website. Thrive! features news and resources, as well as guest articles on important issues for VCS groups.

16,100 people opened our weekly e-bulletins in 2012/13 and there were 55,860 'click-throughs' to further information – an indication that the bulletin is hitting the mark. E-bulletin subscriptions also rose by 20% to 2,114.

We have a growing presence on Facebook and Twitter which keeps our followers both aware of and involved in the work we do. Our Twitter followers reached 1,199 in the period under review (a 143% increase from the previous year). Interactions with our followers and others on Twitter also more than doubled.

We share photos on Flickr and videos, such as regular VCS Advocate updates, on Youtube. In 2012/13, our videos were viewed 2,520 times.

Linking all of these communication channels together is our website, where people can find news and resources, as well as promote their events, notices, volunteer roles and job opportunities. During the year under review, this website was accessed by 97,950 unique visitors and received 1,607,436 pageviews.

Working in partnership

★ The Big Lottery invited Voscur to share Bristol's successful approach to partnership working with other areas.

Restorative Bristol Conference

We were pleased to welcome Sue Mountstevens, the Police and Crime Commissioner, and George Ferguson, the Mayor of Bristol, to our Restorative Bristol Conference in December 2012. Both gave their support to making Bristol a 'Restorative City' to an audience of more than 100 delegates from all sectors.

Voscur worked with Avon and Somerset Probation Trust and Safer Bristol to secure resources to make this conference happen.

Building Health Partnerships Fulfilling Lives

Voscur led the successful Bristol bid to be one of 12 Building Health Partnership (BHP) pilot areas. BHP is a learning programme designed to improve collaboration between Clinical Commissioning Groups (CCGs) and local voluntary and community sector (VCS) organisations. Voscur's primary role within the partnership is to develop a strong VCS provider market – this will include supporting collaboration, promoting commissioning opportunities and providing resources.

Bristol was one of 15 cities invited by the Big Lottery Fund to respond to its Fulfilling Lives programme – with the potential to bring £10m into Bristol to support people with multiple and complex needs.

Working in partnership with the Bristol Compact and Bristol City Council, we designed a process that enabled 60 different interest groups to select a lead partner to develop the proposal and partnership further. The Big Lottery invited us to share Bristol's successful approach with other areas.

“Voscur’s active participation in the Building Health Partnerships project is helping us to develop strong and enduring relationships with the voluntary and community sector in Bristol.”
