The Conservation Volunteers

Biography	Our Purpose is to work together with people, communities and partners, to deliver practical actions that have a lasting impact on people's health prospects and outdoor places. Our activities result in a wide range of improvements for local communities, achieved through using the environment to deliver social, educational and health related outcomes. Most of this work helps to protect or enhance local biodiversity, mitigate the effects of climate change, or improve access or interpretation of greenspaces, to enable people to enjoy them more. We are a national charity that was formed in 1959.
Geographical coverage	City wide
Service Users	Owning no land, TCV provides a unique bridge between individuals and their environment, by linking volunteers and land managers, including local authorities and other public bodies, community groups, schools and private landowners. We deliver both front line services as well as provide a wide range of second tier support to local community groups. We work with a wide range of individuals, including people seeking work, work experience or training, younger people and those with disabilities or health-related challenges. We developed the Green Gym. We focus our work in areas of disadvantage, where we feel our resources can often be most valuably deployed.
Size of organisation	250+ employees
Offer	We can provide a range of specialist skills within Bristol, along with access to our nationally developed processes for monitoring and evaluation, and our experience of successfully delivering a huge range of locally-based and targeted projects over nearly 60 years. We can help build communities through developing greenspaces and setting up their own local groups, individuals to improve their prospects through work experience and training, and everyone to improve their own health through programmes such as the Green Gym and food growing.
Is your organisation planning to collaborate with other organisations to apply for Prospectus funds?	Not sure
Additional information about plans to collaborate.	We want to work with others who want to take direct action and make a lasting difference to the lives of individuals and communities. Please come and talk to us!
What kind of organisations are you looking for?	As a national charity employing around 500 people, we have a wealth of experience and processes in place to develop and deliver a wide range of projects. However, in Bristol we employ four people, so locally our operations are quite limited and we lack the resources to develop larger impact activities on our own. We are looking for locallybased partners that would like to work with us to deliver health, greenspace or work and prospects-related projects that benefit people and communities. Owning no land, we always work in partnership with others.

Unseen

Biography	Unseen is working towards a world without slavery. We do this in three ways: <ol style="list-style-type: none"><li>1. We offer specialist support services for male and female survivors. We run -A 24-hour eight-bed safe-house for women survivors of modern slavery A similar 24-hour five-bed safe-house for male survivors of modern slavery A Resettlement, Integration and Outreach Services for survivors living in the community. Our team of specialist support workers provide support to men and women transitioning from living at a safe-house to living independently in the community. They also provide to support to survivors of modern slavery in the community who have lower level needs but need specialist support to move their recovery forwards.</li><li>2. We equip stakeholders with training, advice and resources so that we can better identify and support victims of slavery. We provide training to frontline professionals who might come into contact with victims. We have trained GPs, police and social workers so they know what to do if they come across a victim.</li><li>3. We influence society through working with Government to bring about systemic change in society.</li></ol>
Geographical coverage	City wide
Service Users	We support male and female survivors of modern slavery. We currently work with adults aged over 18 and are currently developing a project for children. So far we have supported survivors originating from 34 different countries; the most common are Nigeria, Albania, Romania and Poland. We have also supported UK nationals. Survivors who arrive at our safe-houses are extremely vulnerable and have multiple and complex needs. As a result of their trafficking experiences, they are often suffering from a range of physical and psychological health problems such as anxiety, suicidal ideation and symptoms of Post-Traumatic Stress. As well as this, survivors often require legal advice and support to access other services e.g. counselling, education, housing and benefits. We aim for survivors to begin independent and resilient lives.
Size of organisation	50-249 employees
Offer	We are a innovative and dynamic charity working to provide the best survivor support services for survivors for modern slavery. We run the only safe-houses for male and female survivors in the South West and through this have gained expertise in identifying and supporting potential and actual victims of modern slavery. We strongly believe in collaboration and do not want to repeat services that are being provided elsewhere. Therefore we are looking to partner with other organisations looking to meet the needs of vulnerable people who may have experiences of human trafficking and modern slavery.

The Bridge Foundation

Biography	The Bridge Foundation is a Bristol-based charity with 30 years of experience providing high quality therapy and mental health services in the local community. We are widely known as a regional Centre of Excellence which has greatly improved access to specialist mental health support, especially in more disadvantaged areas of the city. As well as working with children and families, we run a Parent Counselling Service based in East Central Bristol. Parents using the service, especially from minority ethnic communities, commonly have had poor experiences of services in the past, and many have lacked space in their lives to look at their own difficulties. However, persistence in a friendly, community-based setting has led to high take up and impact, proving a successful model for an adult mental health service, in an area of high vulnerability.
Geographical coverage	City wide
Service Users	Clients in the Bridge Parent Counselling Service are from diverse communities and coping with single or multiple social issues, causing stress and anxiety. These difficulties include poor housing, poverty, unemployment, disability and social isolation. Many belong to immigrant families, coming from situation of conflict, hardship, and/or trauma – all high on the World Health Organisation’s list of mental health risk factors. Parents are often suffering from childhood deprivation and life experiences that are impacting on their ability to parent their children. Their issues include childhood trauma, multiple loss, particularly among parents from conflict situations, post natal anxiety or depression, relationship breakdown, bereavement, domestic violence or abuse, or drug and alcohol dependence.
Size of organisation	10-49 employees
Offer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Specialist mental health training and expertise</li> <li>Uncompromising commitment to best practice</li> <li>Robust CPD and clinical governance</li> <li>Sound community partnerships</li> <li>Commitment to working with other VCS organisations</li> <li>Experienced project management</li> </ul>

Life Cycle UK

Biography	Life Cycle's mission is to transform lives and the environment through cycling. We help people improve their physical and mental health, access services and facilities, engage with community life and contribute to a sustainable environment through cycling. Our services include affordable refurbished bikes, cycle training, supported social bike rides, kids activities and bike maintenance training. This helps build skills, knowledge, independence and resilience.
Geographical coverage	City wide
Service Users	Life Cycle work with a wide range of people across the city, many of whom are socially and economically disadvantaged and isolated. This includes young people, over 55's, people with physical and mental health needs, offenders and ex-offenders, people with visual impairments or other disabilities.
Size of organisation	10-49 employees
Offer	We are able to offer help around accessibility/transport/independence with particular reference to cycling. Life Cycle has a team of National Standard Cycle Instructors and qualified bike mechanics who can provide support to groups/individuals to become more physically active, independent and social through cycling. This can include help accessing an affordable refurbished bike, one-to-one or group cycle training and supported cycle rides led by a qualified ride leader.
Is your organisation planning to collaborate with other organisations to apply for Prospectus funds?	Not sure
Additional information about plans to collaborate.
What kind of organisations are you looking for?	We already work in informal partnerships with a number of agencies across the city who refer people to us for support with cycling. We do not envisage a joint project with another organisation at this stage, but are keen to get referrals from organisations across the city.

Imayla CIC

Biography	Imayla offers fun and learning opportunities for young people, families and groups, combining creative arts and environmental activities inspired by the natural environment. Having an intercultural approach and working in partnership with BAME communities is key to our work. Our most recent programme, Wildly Different, has involved working particularly with CYP in care or living in difficult circumstances, their families and communities. We offer workforce training to improve confidence is using the outdoors and creative arts. We work with partners to realise the city wide opportunities for CYP and families that might not otherwise be reached in the cultural, leisure and employment sectors.
Geographical coverage	East / Central
Service Users	We work with CYP, families and communities who are demographically most in need of support. We have a focus on working to ensuring equity in service access for BAME individuals and groups.
Size of organisation	Fewer than 10 employees
Offer	Working across the city and in East Central in particular, with children, young people and families. Good track record on working with BAME participants. Organising creative arts and outdoor activities in green spaces within and out of the city. Strategic and operational expertise across VCS, statutory sectors with an Early Intervention focus.
Is your organisation planning to collaborate with other organisations to apply for Prospectus funds?	Yes and we need to decide which organisations
Additional information about plans to collaborate.	Although we have a focus on children and young people we undertake all our work within the context of their need to have healthy and successful families and communities so that forms a significant focus of our work. We'd be interested in collaborating with both CYP and Adult organisations.
What kind of organisations are you looking for?	Geographic reach, the focus of the work they do so where joining up and sharing expertise and skills would give best impact for CYP, families and communities and efficient use of resources.
